

[July 19
 PARTY
 WOOD
 ?
 *

?

$GO

? **
off

+ $

?? fun
+

4

+

?

dogs *

?

?

00

1

++

noise

+ off

+ ?
goats

?

+

+

?

+

+

jass +

+

*****PARTYPARTYPARTYPARTYPARTYPARTYPARTYPARTYPARTYPARTYPARTY ARMY PARTY*****

This fIdAY (tHe 26th) from 8 to soMeTIme after the winChing Hour, aTHERE wILL be a sorray (party) at =4++4++ csfa (800 chestnuts) to celebrate hte SUMMER ANDal =that goed with it....every body is welcome....bring your Fiends and relatives....there will be dancing and carring on 'til all hours...Music wlli be propunded by the LEWER MEN'S LOCKER ROOM BLUE BLOWERS (a very famous group) featuring Bunk Bischoff on trumpet, M-les Brown on corn et, Speedball Clrak on clairnet, w. bohunk- Banjo, &&&&&& many morre equally well known musical persons ..... Dont MISS THIS....
This is the social event of the seas on^ ^#####

50 beautiful beers 50..... free free free b

be there when the the
the original fam-

Fun

yeh

folk music by everyhting

ball begins to bounce
ous artist series

art
g o

real folks

Bring 50¢

[illegible]

TOWER

summer edition
editor jarry burchard
artist wally hedrick

DISPATCH FROM THE COLUMBIA FOUNDATION PROGRAM (APSE)
At Thursday 12:30, Mr. Barnesveld's Psychology class of last semester will conduct a series of classic maze tests on College sophomores and white rats. The purpose of these tests is to illustrate the general need for security felt by students of CSFA.

In searching for a workable solution to this problem, some of the questions asked of Mr. Barnesveld were:

"If the school is a home away from home, how can we supply security?"

"Can we create a mass security blanket?"

"If we can, so what?"
"etc."

Mr. Barnesveld's class has come up with what they hope to be a workable solution to the problem.... encasing the coffee machine in a gigantic paper mache Earth Mother. The unique and satisfying way the machine will operate after the transformation is obvious. A volunteer work committee will be organized after the tests to carry out the project.

We hope that it will be as successful as the recent leveling-of-the-volley-ball court-party.

Remember! This is do yourself week!

NOW SHOWING in the cafeteria, Manuel Neri and Dean Flemming. Both have had recent shows at the Six Gallery, and were well represented during the year in other school exhibits.

FREE FREE /Tower giving away R.Fiscus.

CONFESSIONS OF A CABBAGE, SPAGHETTI AND CHEESE SAUCE EATER...THE TRUE STORY OF THE CAFETERIA
Three times a day, a mass of rubbish disposing individulists storms downstairs to the school cafeteria. There, amid rustling paper money and the soft tinkle of change they come out into their own sphere and relieve their frustrations accumulated during the working hours of the day. They would seem to be unaware that there might be such a custom as taking their dirty dishes back into the kitchen or even the cups and waste.

The cafeteria system at CSFA is not run by the school with plenty of time and money to back it. It is a business managed by students, who accept the extra responsibilities of a small business above and beyond those of their normal school activities. These students buy the food and equipment, including refrigeration and other heavy machinery. Since it is so small an operation they must pay about the same prices that a housewife would, which narrows their profit margin considerably. This poses one of their main problems; They have not the money to hire extra help to clean up after you. Why not do it yourself?

Mr. Murphy, the Allan Ginsberg of Palo Alto, is destroying seventy-five years tradition of successful procrastination on the parts of the mauseliun delegated for the keeping of tomes.

In short, he and his capable assistants are ransacking the files to discover those books still out in check. The fine for overdrawn books is five cents a day, with a maximum total fine of one dollar per book. If you will co-operate with the new regime and hunt out for such books in your storage rooms etc., Mr. Murphy will not have to count the remaining number of books left in the library. It is not really important that Mr. Murphy get out of doing the work, but if he discovers that only five hundred books are left out of a total of ten thousand it's going to be tough on the rest of us, who haven't barely begun to steal an adequate number to round out a decently sized library. After all, you've had your chance...give us our's.

RAPE AND MAYHEM

There will be absolutely no mayhem allowed at the school party Friday night.